President of India to visit Jharkhand tomorrow

Posted On: 14 NOV 2017 6:25PM by PIB Delhi

The President of India, Shri Ram Nath Kovind, will visit Jharkhand tomorrow (November 15, 2017). This will be his first visit to Jharkhand as President of India.

The President will commence his engagements by paying tributes to freedom fighter Birsa Munda at his statue at Birsa Chowk, Ranchi. Later in the day, he will grace the foundation day celebrations of Jharkhand state and inaugurate or lay the foundation stones of various projects in Ranchi. He will also receive the first copy of the Hindi translation of a commentary on the Bhagavad Gita at a function organised by the Yogoda Satsanga Society before leaving Ranchi.
