He said, most of the students in this age group have their aspirations but need to work out their inner aptitude and their inner capacities.

Dr Jitendra Singh said, they have the privilege of being globally connected with their counterparts across the world. Many of them, who have moved out to other parts of the country, have made name for themselves at a young age.

The students thanked the Minister for this interaction. Some of the students also demanded his support for improving sports facilities in these districts.

Arrangements were made for the students, most of whom were visiting Delhi for the first time, to visit the museum of Rashtrapati Bhavan which was a rare and unique experience for them at this tender age. In addition, they went for sightseeing to historic destinations like Red Fort and Qutub Minar.
